

The Freeway Service Patrol (FSP) is a program designated to reduce rush-hour congestion on Placer County area freeways. A special team of tow truck operators continuously patrols the local freeway system during peak commute hours, looking for disabled vehicles and minor accidents. Such incidents cause about half of all freeway congestion! FSP operators make quick repairs to disabled vehicles, or tow them to a CHP designated safe zone nearby.

In addition to reducing congestion, the Freeway Service Patrol program makes our freeways safer while providing valuable motorist assistance. By reducing congestion, it also helps improve local air quality. FSP is a free service provided jointly by the Placer County Transportation Planning Agency, Placer County Air Pollution Control District, California Highway Patrol, and Caltrans.

About FSP Coverage Area

The Placer County Freeway Service Patrol Program covers the congested area of freeway on I-80 between Horseshoe Bar Rd. and the Sacramento County line at Riverside Avenue. In addition, it operates on Rt. 65 from the I-80 split to Sunset Blvd. Sacramento's FSP service has several Freeway Service Patrol areas as well. To learn more about Sacramento's coverage area visit their website at sta.sacramento.ca.us.

If your vehicle stops running on any of the covered freeway segments during rush hours, you can be confident that FSP will find you and provide you with assistance, usually within 15 minutes.
